

Immigration Rules For Children Entering And Leaving South Africa Effective From 1 June 2015

i All children under 18 years old travelling to or from South Africa are required to travel with their unabridged birth certificate in addition to their passport from 1 June 2015.

Children Travelling With Both Parents

Where both parents are travelling with their own children, they must produce a valid passport and an unabridged birth certificate for each child reflecting the particulars of the parents of the child.

i What is an unabridged birth certificate?

An original or certified copy of the birth certificate including the full details of the parents.

I've lost it...where can I get a certified copy?

Copies of births registered in the UK can be ordered from <https://www.gov.uk/order-copy-birth-death-marriage-certificate>

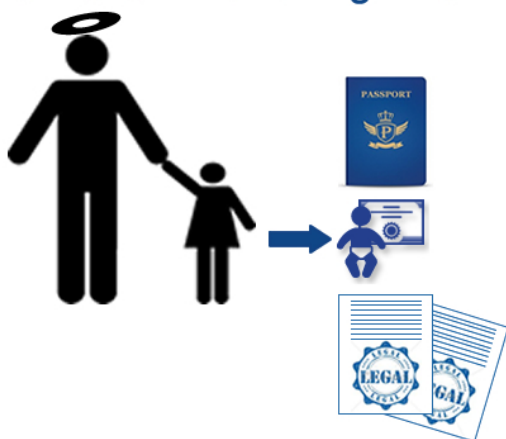

Children Travelling With One Parent

In the case of one parent travelling with a child, the parent must produce a valid passport and an unabridged birth certificate of the child and one of the following -

- (i) consent in the form of an affidavit from the other parent authorising him or her to enter South Africa with the child;
- (ii) a court order granting full parental responsibilities and rights or legal guardianship in respect of the child;
- (iii) where applicable, a death certificate of the other parent

Children Travelling With A Guardian Or Tour Leader

Where a person is travelling with a child who is not his or her biological child, he or she must produce a valid passport and an unabridged birth certificate for the child and -

- (i) an affidavit from the parents or legal guardian of the child confirming that the person in question has permission to travel with the child;
- (ii) copies of the identity documents or passports of the parents or legal guardian of the child; and
- (iii) contact details of the parents / legal guardian of the child

Children Travelling Alone

There are additional requirements for children travelling alone - full details can be found at: <http://southafricahouseuk.com> and <http://www.dha.gov.za/>
